DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1-3 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claims 1, 3 contain improper format defined by the current practice at the PTO (claims 1, 3 use period in the body of the claims as supposed to semicolon).

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 2634

5. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

Regarding claims 1 and 3, it is undeterminable what the applicants regard as the invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-3 are allowed.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

For the purpose of examination, claims 1-3 are based on the best understanding of the examiner and under the assumption that all the periods are replaced by semicolon.

Prior art of record, taking individually or collectively, fails to suggest the motivation for incorporating in a method, as claimed, the particular method for transmitting and receiving the variable wavelength radio impulses in claim 1 (claims 2-3 depend from claim 1). Thus, claims 1-3 are found to be novel and unobvious over prior art of record.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Larrick, Jr. et al. (US 6,026,125) disclose a Waveform Adaptive Ultra-Wideband Transmitter.

McEvan (US 5,966,090) discloses a Differential Pulse Radar Motion Sensor.

Fullerton (US 5,952,956) discloses a Time Domain Radio Transmission System.
